Received through the CRS Web

Congressional Liaison Offices of Selected Federal Agencies

Updated June 23, 1998

Kendra C. Kay and Mary F. Coleman
Office of the Associate Director for Research

For Congressional Use Only

ABSTRACT

This is a directory of approximately 150 government agencies designed to assist congressional staff in contacting agencies of the legislative branch, cabinet departments and other executive branch agencies and boards and commissions. This directory contains names of congressional liaison officers, addresses, telephone and fax numbers, and occasionally e-mail addresses. It is regularly updated each spring. A related CRS product is "Where To Get Publications from the Executive and Independent Agencies: A Directory of Sources for Official Documents", CRS Report 97-129 C. This guide is revised by CRS yearly.

Congressional Liaison Offices of Selected Federal Agencies

Summary

This list of about 150 congressional liaison offices is intended to help congressional offices in placing telephone calls and addressing correspondence to government agencies. In each case, the information was supplied by the agency itself and is current as of the date of publication. Entries are arranged alphabetically in three sections: legislative branch; executive branch; and agencies, boards, and commissions. When looking for a particular agency, we suggest using the alphabetical index at the back of this document, since the organizational affiliation of each agency may not be readily apparent.

Specific telephone numbers for correspondence, publications, and fax transmissions have been provided for each applicable agency. When using fax, it is important to include the entire mailing address on a cover sheet, as many of the listed fax machines are not directly located in the liaison offices.

A few agencies included their e-mail address as well. When e-mailing agencies please remember to include your name, affiliation, phone number, and return address, to ensure a speedy response. Users should be aware that e-mail is not a confidential means of transmission.

As a time-saving device, the main telephone number for each agency has been listed in the index.

Entry listing pages have been designed to afford space for users to revise and update (as needed) through the year if names, titles, or phone numbers change.
